Despite the unseasonably hot weather we ended October with, the leaves are pulling through with the autumn vibes!

We've spent the last few weekends soaking up the beautiful colors by taking walks through some of our favorite places, like the National Arboretum, Catholic University's campus, and Rock Creek Park.

Get out there with your dogs and soak up these fleeting fall colors!

Member at Large: Marnie McCown

Member at Large: April de Bremond

President: Shannon Hall

Thanks for making this past year easy for me. I'll give it another go.

As I wrote last year: "I've been training with Capital since 1997 and teaching for Capital since 2002. I've been club president, training secretary and training director. I've trained in obedience, rally and tracking, learning right alongside many of you over the years. I now focus primarily on agility and on the family of CGC events, and my dogs are very good boys for me in both areas.

For those who don't know me well, I have a PhD in Physics and a daughter who is a sophomore at University of Pittsburgh. For some of you who do know me well, you are remembering me pregnant and wondering how the years have gone by so fast!" (She's a junior now, and almost 21!)

My goals this coming year are to continue our series of small facility improvements while maintaining focus on ensuring a welcoming and warm environment to train our dogs and teach others to do the same.

Vice President: Kara MacWilliams

I have been training at Capital since 2013 and Shannon was one of my first instructors. I currently have one Bernese Mountain Dog, Daisy who is 5½ years old. Daisy and I have been training almost nonstop at Capital since we started puppy kindergarten when she was 12 weeks old and got her CGC and TKN at 16 weeks. We've had fun trying a lot of different types of training and dog sports and have collected a few titles along the way - CH Olekas Sun Shines on Daisy at Boredale NDD (Novice Draft Dog) FDC NAP NJP NFP ACT1 ACT1J CGC CGCU TKN TKI NDD. Our current focus is on agility and drafting. I was on the board of the Potomac Valley Bernese Mountain Dog Club (PVBMD), as an at large member in 2021 and as Treasurer in 2023. I was chair of the back-to-back PVBMD Independent Regional Specialty in 2022. I am currently serving as the Vice President of CDTC.

Treasurer: Pam Ayres

I would be honored to continue serving as Treasurer of CDTC. I have been a financial officer of many organizations, have an MBA and an active CPA license, and work for the National Museum of Women in the Arts.

I've been coming to the club for about 10 years. Between Suki, my Japanese Chin, Babu, my Tibetan Spaniel, and Tippy, my Havanese, we've done obedience, rally, freestyle, therapy work, agility, tricks and conformation. This year Tippy had her first litter of puppies.

Secretary: Julie Rovner

I am a health policy journalist who currently owns and trains two Pembroke Welsh Corgis, Wallace and Aspen, in obedience, rally, and agility.

I have been a member of the board since 2018.

Training Director: Tom Tatham

I have been training dogs since 2013 and have earned Obedience titles on 3 dogs (a CDX on my Corgi, my Aussie is UDX2 OM1, and my Mini American is UDX). We have also competed in agility and hold several rally titles. I am currently training my fourth dog, a Border Collie.

My interest in animal training is intertwined with my educational and professional life—I hold a PhD in Experimental Psychology and have published research on operant and classical conditioning, and have taught learning theory to undergraduate, graduate and medical students. I currently work as a Scientific Review Officer for the National Institutes of Health.

Assistant Training Director: Janine Castorina

I have been a CDTC member for several years and have been training dogs for over 10 years. I got my start at CDTC when a close friend suggested that I take my hyper husky-cattle dog to agility class. I began with Introduction to Agility with Hermes and have never looked back. In addition to agility classes, my dogs have taken obedience and rally, though agility is my first love. I began assistant teaching the Introduction to Agility class with April a few years ago and find teaching agility to be a uniquely rewarding experience. The students and the dogs are great and watching them progress in the sport and grow as a team is so rewarding. Over the years CDTC has grown the agility program into an enviable and admired program. I look forward to continuing my tenure as Assistant Training Director and the great progress those before me began.

In addition to volunteering for the club, I volunteer for a few dog rescues, where I advocate for positive reinforcement training and other measures that are important in the rescue movement.

Training Secretary: Roxane Bouten

I have been a member of CDTC for several years and have trained all of my dogs at the club starting with my first, an All-American dog, in 1988. Ivy and Frankie, both English Springers, are numbers five and six to train at CDTC and are having a great time with Obedience, Agility, Rally, and Scent Work. I have enjoyed the volunteer opportunities at trials and at the club and look forward to contributing more in the future.

Obichaff Editor: Payton Murphy

Becoming a member of CDTC nearly two years ago was one of the best decisions I've made for myself and my dog. Since joining, my dog, Hadley, and I have earned all CGC titles, Trick Dog Intermediate, and Beginner Novice; we're taking our time with our CD!

While competition obedience is something I'm still learning, I'm no stranger to dogs. I've had dogs my entire life, and have worked with them in some capacity for 10+ years. I am a Puppy Kindergarten instructor and CGC Evaluator for the club, which has thus far been a joy-filled experience!

When I'm not hanging with dogs, I'm at my day job as a Settlement

Attorney helping people buy and sell homes. I often have Hadley with me, our office mascot. I firmly believe having a well behaved canine companion makes every office a better place to be. I look forward to the opportunity to continue to serve on the board. It's been delightful to serve as Obichaff Editor and I hope to continue to grow our audience and bring together our community through shared words.

Trial Chair: Mark Schneeberger

Hi! My name is Mark Schneeberger. I like dogs. So that's a plus. Also, I am a professional trainer of fifteen years. I graduated from the Animal Behavior College and the National K9 School for Dog Trainers. As a professional, I have trained over 1,300 dogs as a private one on one instructor. I have also trained many dogs through boarding programs and day-boarding programs. My belief with dogs is that we must provide structure and consistency to help them succeed in a human world. Obedience training should be viewed as a language; we communicate through the leash and collar. I believe competition obedience, and dog sports in general, are fantastic ways to motivate our dogs. We have an obligation to stimulate our dogs mentally and exercise them physically. Obedience provides both. I look forward to helping put together great events to further the name of Capital Dog Training Club, and to encouraging new handlers to take the plunge. It's all about the partnership.

Trophy Chair: Amy Scheiner

I am looking forward to serving the Club for another year as Trophy Chair. I have been a member of CDTC since the late 1980s. In real life I'm a small animal veterinarian, and I currently share my home with my Shetland sheepdog, Devyn, and my Icelandic sheepdog, Tryggur. I also have an American Paint Horse, Panda, who is boarded nearby. When not working, training dogs, or riding my horse, I enjoy traveling to remote places (Mongolia and Kenya were favorites), reading, and doing cross-stitch.

AKC Delegate: Joyce Dandridge

First, I would like to thank the CDTC Nominating Committee for considering me for the position of AKC Delegate. I have enjoyed serving in this position.

I have been a member of CDTC since 1990 and have put obedience and conformation titles on my Chow Chows. I have been a Chow Chow breeder owner handler for over 30 years. Presently, I judge all the Non Sporting breeds and Working breeds, Best in Show, Juniors and some toy and herding breeds. I have had the opportunity to judge at National Specialties and the AKC Championship Show. I have also been invited to judge that show again this year. This year I also judged the Westminster KC show. I have been Corresponding Secretary for the Chow Chow parent club and have been for more than 18 years serving on the Board of Directors. I am a member of National Capital KC and currently serve on their Board. I am a member of Mid-Atlantic Stewards Association and have been an officer of the club and currently serve as one of the Chief Stewards. I was elected by the AKC Delegate body for a fourth three-year term on the Companion Events Committee last year. If elected to represent you again, I will continue to seek feedback from the members on AKC Delegate voting issues as well as share your concerns with the Delegate committee. Of course, having initiated the Delegates Corner in our newsletter, I would continue to keep you informed on AKC issues there and most importantly I will continue to be available to the membership to discuss issues of concern in the sport.

Member at Large (Membership): Shirley Blakely

I have been a member of CDTC for over 16 years and a Board member for 4 years serving as new membership chair. I'm a nutrition scientist retired from the FDA. I enjoy interacting with my dogs, Gigi, 10 yrs old and Coco, 18 months old. Both are poodle mixed breeds, Gigi is a standard poodle-Australian Shepherd mix and Coco is a miniature poodle-golden retriever mix. Gigi continues to enjoy being a certified therapy dog even though opportunities to serve are fewer since the beginning of covid-19. Gigi and I have also teamed up in Canine Freestyle competitions where she has completed her Heel work to Music at the novice level. Gigi has achieved certification at the "Expert" level as a tricks dog. Coco, Gigi's little sister, has learned many of Gigi's games and tricks. She is currently in novice and intermediate obedience classes. Coco and Gigi enjoy chasing and playing tag with each other.

Member at Large: Marnie McCown

Marnie McCown has been training at CDTC since October 2021, becoming a member in February 2022. She has experience in working dogs going back as far as 1998 and has had her current canine attention-grabber, Beau, since October 2020.

She assisted Eileen Freedman with several classes before becoming an official instructor and, in addition to Puppy Kindergarten, she also teaches FamilyDog 1 and the occasional Tricks class.

Marnie also handles membership renewal (still working out the kinks, so go easy), is a CGC evaluator for the quarterly club-sponsored evaluations, and recently volunteered to organize the CDTC yard sale.

She is currently training for a CDX with Beau and hopes to begin that ribbon run in spring of 2024.

When she is not hiking with her dog, visiting friends with her dog, training her dog, photographing her dog, or talking about her dog, Marnie makes her living as a Principal of Workforce Experience Consulting, helping global companies with their end-to-end talent strategies.

Marnie enjoys the opportunity of CDTC membership as it allows her to continue learning more about canine behavior, increasing her ability to help others with their dogs, and participate in fun activities with her dog.

Member at Large: April de Bremond

April has been a member of Capital for about 15 years. She has been teaching intro and beginner agility for Capital for many years; for most of them, with our friend and her beloved husband Ted by her side. She ran her schipperke Colby in agility trials as well as titling in rally with both Colby and Echo, and earned Tricks and Canine Good Citizen titles with them as well. April was awarded CDTC sportsperson of the year in 2019.

Thanks to Member Volunteers -You Made the Oct. Trials A Success!

Submitted by: Benita Bottom

Over 20 members stepped up to make the CDTC Rally and Obedience trials a success.

Thanks to all for helping set up the rings, stewarding, lunch setup assistance and cleaning up.

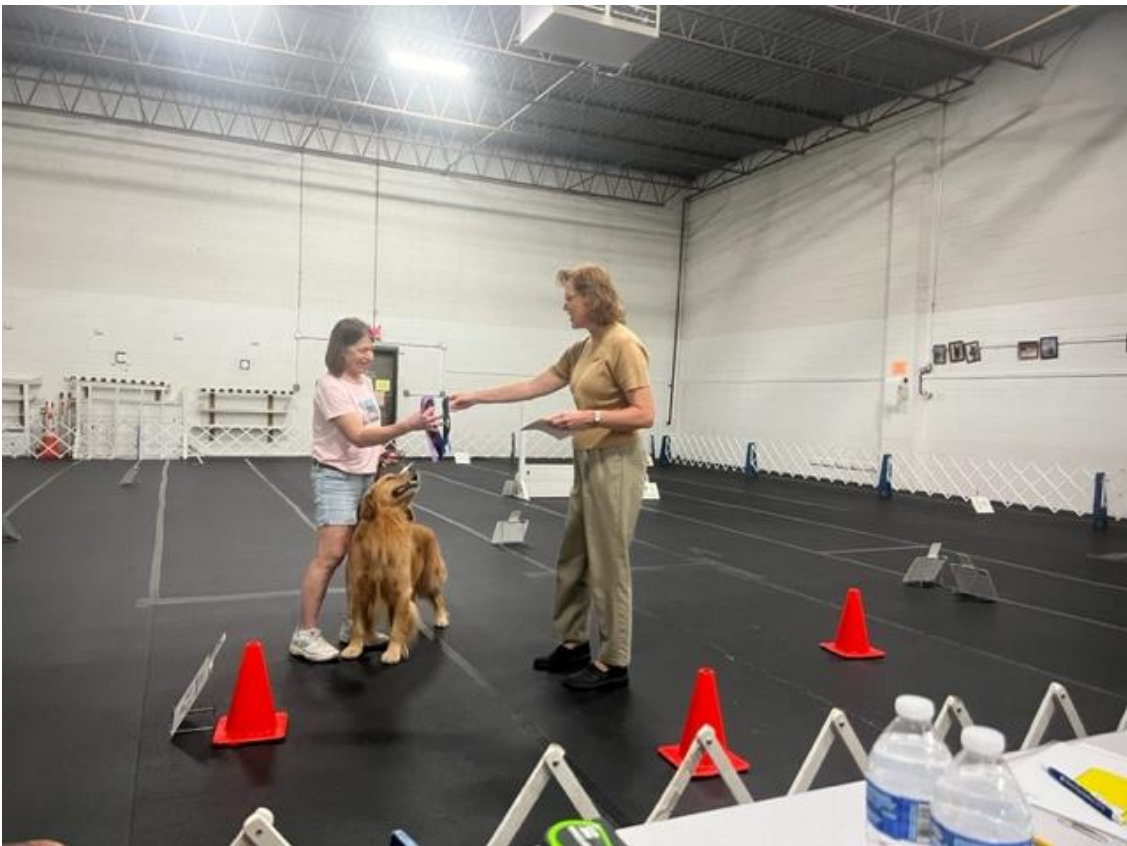

Our Judges Frank Cardillino and Renee Hoover were grateful for your stewarding support. Any Schiener was always present serving as Trophy Chair and Ring Steward when needed.

Thanks again to all who pitched in. I would name each of you, but do not want to forget anyone.

Trialing is an Addictive Sport!

Submitted by: Ed Read

You know, as a first time dog owner, competitive obedience and rally trialing can be dangerous to your health. It's true! I've come to realize, over the past 3 years of my membership with CDTC, Inc., that competing is ADDICTIVE. It's both painful and exhilarating, sometimes all in a single weekend. And I keep signing up for more. Sometimes you need your fellow addict/competitors to talk you off cliffs, to encourage you, to cajole you, and to massage your wounds. Inevitably I'm instructed to hand my phone to someone for filming (I hate that, Tom Tathem! And yet it always helps immeasurably). I'm a slightly over-competitive type person and get nervous easily (Gigi undoubtedly picks up on that!) before a run BUT I keep doing it. We persevere. I have bad weekends and then some really good ones. BUT I keep coming back for more. We compete in Agility, Obedience, Rally, Scent Work, and for fun we do Dock Diving and FastCat in our spare time! I like Obedience and Scent Work the best. Gigi LOVES dock diving. Unfortunately, and although titled, she's not going to win any major awards in this venue. However, she absolutely adores it. To round out her many talents Gigi is also a crisis response therapy dog (one certification level above a regular therapy dog). Of course I'm proud of her and all our achievements. I had no idea dog ownership could be so fulfilling, so wonderful, or so competitive, sports-wise. However, I fell for it all hook line and sinker! Before picking out Gigi all I knew was that I wanted a dog that would love ME... more than my wife. Everyone my wife meets instantly falls in love with her (our cat, our kids, you know what I mean), so I was worried the same would happen with Gigi when I brought her home. I'm happy to report, and as most club members know, Gigi loves ME.

So, all that brings me to why I'm writing today - about our wonderful (well, parts of it were truly exhilarating) past weekend (10/6-10/8) competition at Capital's Rally and Obedience Trials at the CTA in Beltsville, MD. We did our fair share of volunteering as stewards, and helping set up, but we also trialed a bit in between. The photo attached is from Friday evening when we rallied our way into three first places (with scores of 98, 99, and 100) AND Highest Scoring Dog in Advanced B and Excellent B Combined Score and Highest Combined Triple Q Rally Trial Score. We were flying high coming home that evening. Double bananas for the girl on the ride home! A lot of blue showing for sure and so I went into the next day's Obedience trial (Graduate Open, our bridge to the Utility A class), in the same venue, with good spirits. Unfortunately, I still get super nervous, and some of that must have rained on Gigi as she sat and scratched herself nervously on the "signals" part of the exercise, thereby NQ'ing. Our trialing for the day over, we put our energy into volunteering. We'll do better the next day, I reassured myself. Well, we did and were the only qualifiers out of a very small class, so we took first place but I was not at all happy with my girl's performance. It was as if she had lost a full year of training, just not as engaged as I know she can be. I was devastated, of course. Fortunately there were other club members there to console me, to reassure me, and to counsel me (thanks Donna Cleverdon and others!). There was film. We analyzed it. We parsed it out. We came up with a plan. So off we go. Sure, I wish the weekend had ended like it had begun (who wouldn't?), BUT it didn't and we have to accept that. I just feel grateful I have such good and experienced club members around me to help guide us through this wonderful (and totally addictive) experience of adding initials to my dog's name. :-)

CDTC's Yard Sale

Submitted by: Marnie McCown

Happy Halloween! Why did Beau dress up as a ghost? Because he wanted to life your SPIRITS!!

Don't be scared, this is just a friendly reminder that the CDTC Bark Bazaar will occur on November 18th and 19th from 7 AM to 11 AM. It will be held in the CDTC parking lot, rain or shine.

If you have any questions or want to volunteer for set-up, tear down or flyer distribution, please email:

CDTCYardSaleCommittee@gmail.com

NOTE: We will STOP accepting donations on November 5! After November 5, we will not take anything else, so be sure to get those donations over to the club before then.

Items we are accepting:

- Dog-related equipment in good condition
- Food and water bowls

- Bedding
- Training equipment
- Grooming tools
- Collars and leashes
- We are also accepting:
- Gently used housewares
- Kitchen tools
- Home decor
- Books
- Linens
- Gardening items

We are not accepting:

Brag

A club brag, submitted by Ken Harringer:

CDTC produces well behaved dogs, here is Julie Rovner's Aspen, Lisa Bernstein's Poppy, and Ken Harringer's Percy during Novice B group stay at Catoctin Kennel Club.

Shannon Hall shares:

Connor earned his second AKC agility championship this Sunday, running at the National Capital Bearded Collie Club's annual trial. He's a Very Good Boy. As my husband David said "That ribbon is as big as he is!"

Staci Ka writes:

Kamden finished his CD at CDTC's Trial. On to Open.

Marnie McCown, on behalf of Natasha Curry, shares:

Natasha Curry and her Berger Blanc Suisse, Argos, had their first trial on Saturday Oct 28th with the Mount Vernon Kennel Club at Catoctin.

In addition to getting their first leg for Beginner Novice, Natasha and Argos took first place!

Jennie Larkin writes:

Hermes and Nikko have been busy! Hermes earned a number of agility titles in UKI and AKC agility in the last couple of months, including his Master Standard, Masters Jumpers, and Excellent Fast titles, as well as his FCAT2.

Nikko is doing well in training but has also learned to love running fast after plastic bags and earned his DCAT title with speed placements among the other small dogs.

Both small dogs also enjoyed visiting Gettysburg, which was very dog friendly.

Ken & Betsy Harringer write:

Percy, our 3yo Clumber Spaniel, earned CD at MT Vernon DTC's show at Point of Rocks under judge Josie McAuliffe. There have only been twelve UD's awarded to the breed, so a CD is noteworthy. We put together a title party befitting the accomplishment. It included a shrimp ring, a nod to my original novice heeling teacher, Jerusha Gurvin. Thanks to current teachers Tom Tatham, Mark Schneeberger, and Burton Goldstein's training group, Percy went three-for-three Novice B in 2023.

Judge Josie McAuliffe awards Percy with his third Novice leg

A title party like we did them in Jerusha's novice class

Percy's title party diorama

Sheri Locke shares:

My young Doberman, not yet a year received a 3rd and 4th place in AKC novice containers! Waiting for next week to finish his containers Novice:-) he also completed his FitB. Photos of awards and completing FitDog Bronze.

Priss in the last trials has finished her AKC Masters interior, containers and buried. 2 more exterior masters to finish title:-)

Delegate's Corner

By: Joyce Dandridge

In last month's issue I reported on the discussions in the CEC meeting only. Below will be my report on what occurred in the General Meeting of the Delegates.

- Dr. Thomas Davies, AKC Chairman of the Board, mentioned that litter registrations increased to its highest in 2021 and in 2022 due to pandemic. He stated today we are seeing encouraging growth in events and entries since 2021. Conformation Events are up almost 20% and entries have grown by approximately 9%. Performance Events have grown 11% and entries up 15%. Companion Events are up more than 10% and entries have grown by more than 11%. When we look at individual events, Rally increased by more than 16% and entries nearly 19%. Fast CAT continues to boom with more than 21% growth in events and nearly 30% growth in entries. Scent Work Events increased 17% and entries up 23%. He stated that these sports are excellent base from which to welcome newcomers to the world of AKC. He mentioned we have also seen an average of three new breeds per year, with four joining the AKC ranks since the waning pandemic.
- Mr. Sprung delivered the President's address and welcomed 31 new Delegates. He called on Ruth Crumb Delegate from Magic Valley KC to present our annual remembrance of 9/11. She has worked and assembling the stories from the Delegates who were present at the meeting on 9/11. She solicited stories from those who were present in 2001. There were 70 who remained as Delegates when she started this project and some of them have contributed stories. Ruth announced that a webpage on AKC.org has been created to house these living documents. She had those Delegates stand who were there in 2001.
- Mr. Sprung called on Kassi McCombe, AKC Business Intelligence Manager who discuss how she is transforming data and making it accessible and informative in AKC so internal stakeholders and employees can continue to strive towards a data driven workforce and data driven decision making ideal. She started five years ago.
- Mr. Sprung called on Caroline Murphy to share a short video called Meet the Breeds in the Field The purpose of the video is to demonstrate both form and function of working dogs.
- Ted Phillips, CFO, delivered the Financial Report which stated that litter registrations were up and 83% of them were done on line. On line dog registrations total 88% of dog registrations. He also stated the Sports and Events area looks very positive this year.

- Mr. Sprung called on Sheila Golfe in Government Relations, Dr. Carmen Battaglia, Delegate and Board member and Chris Sweetwood, AKC Board member and Delegate to give Delegates an update on the Detection Dog Task Force. A video was played on the Patriotic Puppy Program and its phases in puppy-raising fundamentals and protocols. It is felt that AKC breeders can raise exceptional detection dogs that meet our nation's needs. More than 140 breeders in 35 states are participating in the program. So far 70 Patriotic Puppy graduates are working on detection careers.
- An update was given by the AKC Juniors Committee. Sally Fineburg spoke on what her club has done with Juniors.

NOTE: Our club is still looking for a Juniors Coordinator.
